

Momentum Income Plus Fund

Portfolio profile

The Fund is a largely domestic, high yield, fixed income portfolio which aims to return STeFI plus 3% before fees through the interest rate cycle. The portfolio is suited to investors seeking the highest possible income yield with the tolerance for some capital volatility in the case of credit defaults. The fund's low correlation to other fixed interest funds and asset classes make the fund a valuable building block for portfolios.

Investment strategy

The portfolio aims to maximise yield with the flexibility to invest in a diverse range of securities but the dominant strategy is exposure to credit including structured credit assets. In order to generate the excess return the fund has the mandate to invest in lower credit rated instruments. Modified duration (interest rate risk) is low and low volatility of returns can be expected barring credit defaults or substantial widening in credit spreads. The fund can hold up to 25% in instruments offshore and an additional 5% in Africa, but currency hedges are used to substantially offset the impact of movements of the Rand relative to offshore currencies.

Specific risks

Permanent capital loss for investors is possible if an issuer of one of the instruments held in the fund defaults. As this is the principal return driver of the fund it is also the principal risk of the portfolio. Significant widening in credit spreads on instruments held in the fund can result in short term capital volatility but not permanent capital loss.

This portfolio is permitted to invest in foreign securities which, within portfolios, may have additional material risks, depending on the specific risks affecting that country, such as: potential constraints on liquidity and the repatriation of funds; macroeconomic risks; political risks; foreign exchange risks; tax risks; settlement risks; and potential limitations on the availability of market information. Fluctuations or movements in exchange rates may cause the value of underlying international investments to go up or down. Investors are reminded that an investment in a currency other than their own may expose them to a foreign exchange risk.

Portfolio objective/investment policy

The investable universe of the portfolio will include fixed-interest instruments (including, but not limited to, bonds, cash deposits and money market instruments), preference shares, debentures, equity linked notes, derivative instruments including futures and options linked to underlying indices, in order to achieve the portfolio's investment objective, and equity securities, as well as assets in liquid form. The portfolio has the flexibility to hold a maximum of 10% effective equity exposure. The portfolio is positioned as an income plus portfolio to correctly reflect the portfolio's flexible mandate in terms of accessing a broad spectrum of high yielding assets including fixed interest and equities (from time to time) with due consideration being given to the lower risk mandate of the portfolio. The manager may use appropriate risk hedging strategies where necessary. The manager may also include participatory interests or any other form of participation in portfolios of collective investment schemes or other similar collective investment schemes. Where the aforementioned schemes are operated in territories other than South Africa, participation in portfolios of these schemes will be included only where the regulatory environment is of sufficient standard to provide investor protection at least equal to that in South Africa. The portfolio may from time to time invest in financial instruments in order to achieve the portfolio's investment objective. The manager may also include unlisted forward currency, interest rate and exchange rate swap transactions for efficient portfolio management purposes. The trustee shall ensure that the investment policy is adhered to provided that nothing shall preclude the manager from varying the proportion of the aforementioned securities relative to each other (except as required by the Act), or the assets themselves to maximise investment potential in an ever changing economic environment, should this be deemed necessary to achieve the stated investment objective. Provided also that nothing contained in the investment policy shall preclude the manager from retaining cash in the portfolio and/or placing cash on deposit in terms of the Deed. For the purpose of this portfolio, the manager shall reserve the right to close the portfolio to new investors. This will be done in order to be able to manage the portfolio in accordance with its mandate. The manager shall determine the critical size from time to time.
